About Koimala & Maalimi:

Two likable characters present the educational messages such as:

Koimala only eats the tip of sea grass which means that it grows quicker and is sustained.
This keeps it healthy as a habitat and food for many other marine creatures.

Maalimi gets plastic debris stuck on nose, and Koimala helps to remove the rubbish. (plastic pollution)

Miss Olive Oyl

Miss Olive Oyl is a simple yet sophisticated restaurant and bar that takes its inspiration from the fresh and familiar flavours of the Mediterranean.

Defined by a casual menu that combines exquisite offerings from the land and sea, the focus is firmly on organic ingredients, one of the largest selection of olive oils, fresh seafood and tasty grilled dishes, while the drinks list emphasises our passion for tropical cocktails, endearing gins and tasty sake.

Mr Tomyam

True to SAii's roots, our Mr Tomyam eatery embraces the hallmarks of Thai cuisine found in the Land of Smiles' most celebrated dishes - sour, sweet, salty, bitter and spicy - fused with European favourites.

The eatery is tastefully influenced by the playful features of an Italian pizzeria and bold palettes of old-school Thai restaurants, harking back to a bygone era with a cheeky nod to the light-hearted personalities of both nations.
